INTRODUCTIONS: THE COMPANY AND ITS SEVEN PRODUCTS

We build software for other companies, and products of our own.

Fusion Forge Tech is a software company based in Sofia, Bulgaria. Michael Zuther founded it in 2022 and leads it as chief executive.
Our engineers and designers have completed more than 200 projects for startups, growing companies and large enterprises across Europe, North America, the Middle East and the Caribbean: web and mobile apps, payment and fintech systems, cloud infrastructure and AI.
Alongside client work we build our own products. Seven are in this issue: a social platform for creators, and products for teams, events, private aviation, fashion, contracts and project management.
This newsletter comes once a month. This first issue introduces each product; the next ones show what is new.

Vybe: the social app where creating comes first- PRIVATE BETA

myvybe.io

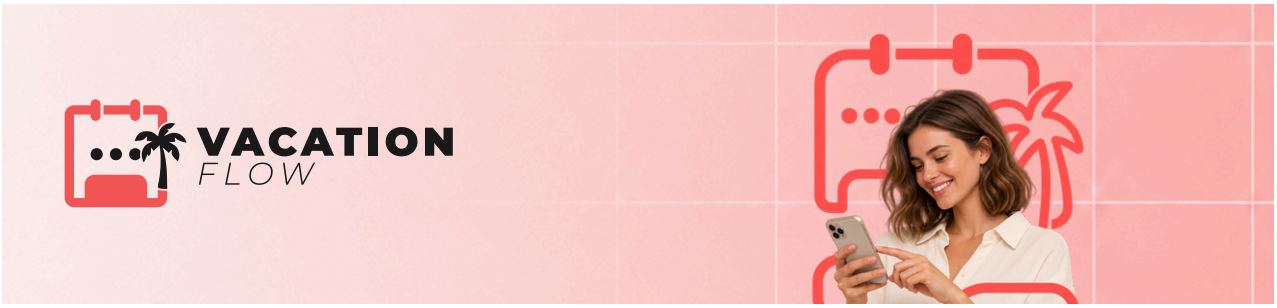
Most social apps are built for scrolling. Vybe starts from the other end. It is a creator-first social platform with an AI studio built in, so a post is made in the same app where it is shared.

What it does

- A feed, profiles, follows, comments and sharing, built around creators.
- A photo studio that changes a photo from a plain description and keeps the person's face the same.
- Short cinematic videos from a single photo, with music made for each post.
- A personal sticker pack made from one photo.

Where it stands

Vybe is in private beta. The platform is built and running, and new members join by invitation or approval while we test it with a first group of creators. Next, the beta opens to more creators. Later comes Vybe Collab, a marketplace where brands hire creators and the payment is held until the work is delivered. Collab is planned and not built yet.



VacationFlow - Time off, remote days and shifts, in one app

vacationflow.app

VacationFlow replaces the spreadsheets and email chains teams use to plan leave. Employees ask for time off or a remote day from their phone, managers approve in one tap, and everyone sees one team calendar with the public holidays of more than 100 countries.
It runs on the web, iOS and Android, in five languages, and is free for teams of up to 20 people.

bepay.mk/en

Tickets, entry and cashless payments for events

BePay runs an event from the first ticket to the last drink. Guests buy tickets online, get in with a scan of their phone or wristband, and pay at bars and stands from a prepaid wallet, so nobody handles cash. Organisers see sales by day, stand and ticket type as they happen. It is in use at live events today and ready for any organiser.

stagigng.flybossik.com

FlyBossik - Book a private jet the way you book a flight

FlyBossik shows an instant price for a private flight, or collects quotes from operators when a trip needs one. Travellers can also buy a single seat on an empty leg, a jet already flying the route. Only verified operators can sell,and the payment is held until the flight is confirmed. The platform is built and in testing before launch.

MODA SCAN

moda-scan.com

ModaScan - Photograph a luxury piece and learn exactly what it is Point the camera at a bag, shoe, watch or garment. ModaScan names the house and the model, then shows where to buy it, new from leading retailers or pre-owned. It works in English, German, French and Italian.

FUSION DOCS

FusionDocs - Contracts signed online, one or hundreds at a time

Prepare a document once as a template, then send it to one person, or upload a spreadsheet and send a personal contract to every row. The people signing need no account. Each signed PDF carries an audit summary and a fingerprint that shows it has not been changed. We use it for our own contracts today.

LOGO IN PROGRESS

FusionHub - Every project in one place

Fusion Hub keeps a project's files, people, contracts and costs together. Each project shows what is still missing and the dates that matter, such as when a contract runs out.
A working demo exists, and the product is being designed.
